AETF Voting Congress - Guidelines

1. The rights to participate in the AETF Voting Congress have two delegates of each AETF Country Member who are in possession of credentials signed by the National President of their member country in order to have voice (credentials - see the attachment).
2. The right to vote has the President of the National Association or a person clearly indicated on written credentials (only one person).
3. Candidature for the Board of Directors must be sent to the Secretary General, signed by the President of the member country of the candidate (with indication on which position he candidates).
4. The Board of Directors members may candidate themselves for re-election.
5. The President and the Vice-President will be elected in separate voting.
6. The Secretary General will be proposed by the President and ratified by the Congress.
7. The candidatures to the Revisory Commission should be given during the Congress.
8. Based on Art. 61 of AETF Constitution with the exception of the President, a member country will only have one member within the Board of Directors. If there will be two or more candidates from one country and all of them will receive enough votes entitling them to be elected to the Board, only the person with the highest number of votes will be chosen to the Board.
9. The applications with the candidature must be send to the AETF Secretary General signed by the President of the member country of the candidate before March 11th, 2012.
10. There is not written anything in the AETF Constitution that the candidatures of the President, Vice-President or the Board members can be proposed during the AETF Voting Congress. However, if there is no any candidature submitted in writing to the General Secretary for the President or Vice-President and less than six candidatures for the Board Members, putting forward candidatures will be allowed during the AETF Voting Congress.
11. All candidates must be present at the Congress.
12. All AETF member countries must have paid all back payments of the annual fees in order to have voting rights.

Yours in Taekwon-Do,

Jerzy Jedut
AETF Secretary General
