ABOUT MOLDOVA:

The Republic of Moldova is a country located in south eastern Europe. This country's capital is Chisinau. Chisinau is a very green city and Moldovans are likeable people. The fertile and black land is so rich in nutrients that one old saying goes, "Thrust a stick into Moldovan ground and it will grow into a tree." Much of Moldova is a steppe to the Carpathian Mountain range, possessing the perfect soil for wine production. Moldova produces a variety of excellent wines. It is also home to the world's largest underground wine cellars at "Cricova". It is a must for any wine connoisseur. So, is the annual Wine festival every autumn, organized in conjunction with the Moldovan state which offers foreign visitors the chance to taste moldovan wine. The annual festival is a tribute to all professional and non-professional wine-makers for their hard work and maintaining the old wine-making traditions of the republic. Anywhere on earth you will find good and bad people. That is a given. Moldova however seems to have a disproportionate number of good people. Reliable, trustworthy, friends of life. It's has been said if you can count your true friends on the five fingers of your hands, you are rich. If that's true, then Moldova stands to make you a very rich person.
